

Review of Constitutional Studies/Revue d'études constitutionnelles

Style sheet for English-language manuscript submissions

Books:

¹ Robert Post, Constitutional Domains: Democracy, Community, Management (Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press, 1995).

[Note: Use authors' full names as they are used in the material being cited.]

² J Bryan Casey & Janet Mills, Arbitration Law of Canada: Practice and Procedure (Huntington, NY: Juris Publishing, 2005) at 318–19.

[Note: Indicate specific pages being cited – a pinpoint citation – with “at xx”.]

³ Hans-Georg Gadamer, Truth and Method, 2d ed, translated by Joel Weinsheimer & Donald G Marshall (New York: Crossroad, 1989) [Gadamer].

[Note: If there will be further citations to a work, add the author's last name in square brackets. If there are also citations to a different work by the same author, add the short form of the title of the source in the square brackets as well.]

⁴ The Europa World Year Book, 57th ed, vol 2 (London: Routledge, 2016) at 4244 [Europa World Year Book].

Citations to earlier citations:

Europa World Year Book, ibid at 4244. [to direct the reader to the immediately preceding endnote, whether or not it is the full citation – i.e. it can be used after a supra, or another ibid]

Gadamer, supra note 3. [to direct the reader to the full citation if it is not immediately preceding]

Edited volumes:

J Peter Meekison, Hamish Telford & Harvey Lazer, eds, Canada: The State of the Federation 2002: Reconsidering the Institutions of Canadian Federalism (Kingston, ON: Institute of Intergovernmental Relations, 2004).

Chapters in edited volumes:

Jean Leclair, “Reforming the Division of Powers in Canada: An (Un)Achievable Endeavour?” in Gerhard Robbers, ed, Reforming Federalism – Foreign Experiences for a Reform in Germany (Frankfurt am Main: Peter Lang, 2005) 93.

[Note: Indicate beginning page number only of chapter. If using a pinpoint citation, structure as beginning page number at pinpoint page – e.g. “93 at 96.”]

Articles in scholarly journals:

Sonia N Lawrence, “Cultural (in)Sensitivity: The Dangers of a Simplistic Approach to Culture in the Courtroom” (2001) 13 CJWL 107.

[Note: Use the abbreviations J, Rev, and U in scholarly journal titles, including law reviews. Other acceptable word abbreviations can be found in section 6.1.6 of the McGill Canadian Guide to Uniform Legal Citation, 8th ed.]

Articles in newspapers or non-academic periodicals:

Keith Leslie, “Let Ontario families use Muslim law in disputes, report urges”, The Globe and Mail (21 December 2004) A12.

Ian Peach, “Half Full, at Best: Challenges to the Council of the Federation”, (2004) 84 CD Howe Institute Backgrounder, online: <www.cdhowe.org/pdf/backgrounder_84.pdf>.

“Muslim burial for Malaysian hero”, BBC News (28 December 2005), online: <news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/asia-pacific/4563452.stm>.

Government publications (with author):

Canada, Commission on the Future of Health Care in Canada, “Discussion Paper No. 29: Intergovernmental Cooperation Mechanisms: Factors for Change?”, by Réjean Pelletier (Ottawa: CFHCC, 2002) at 4, online: <publications.gc.ca/collections/Collection/CP32-79-29-2002E.pdf>.

[Note: the titles of reports manuals, and other book-length government publications are to be italicized; the titles of articles, bulletins, and other short government publications are to be put in quotation marks.]

Government publications, press releases (without author):

Québec, Ministère du Conseil exécutif, Secrétariat aux affaires intergouvernementales canadienne, Council of the Federation – A First Step Towards a New Era in Intergovernmental Relations in Canada, 2d ed (Québec: Gouvernement du Québec, 2004).

Statistics Canada, “Census Profile” in 2016 Census, Catalogue No 98-316-X (Ottawa: Statistics Canada, 2017).

Ontario, Ministry of the Attorney General, “Statement from Attorney General on Final Report of the Far North Electoral Boundaries Commission” (8 August 2017), online: <<https://news.ontario.ca/mag/en/2017/08/statement-from-attorney-general-on-final-report-of-the-far-north-electoral-boundaries-commission.html>>.

[Note: remove “http://” from the web address, unless this breaks the link. “https://”, on the other hand, should always be kept in.]

Cases, Constitutions, Statutes, Treaties, and other primary legal sources:

- For general questions about English- or French-language citations, consult McGill Law Journal’s Canadian Guide to Uniform Legal Citation, 8th ed.
- For court cases, cite paragraph numbers rather than page numbers wherever possible. Include a neutral citation (if available):

Chaoulli v Quebec (Attorney General), 2005 SCC 35 at para 5, [2005] 1 SCR 791 [Chaoulli].

- Except as part of a case citation in a footnote, refer to judges as, for example, “Chief Justice McLachlin” rather than “McLachlin CJC.”
- If a document (treaty, statute, etc.) is a main focus of your article, it may be useful to include a citation to a free electronic source for it (if available), in addition to the full legal citation.

Foreign-language materials:

Eyal Nun, “The Constitutional Restrictions upon the Army in Israel” (1999-2000) 16 Israel Defence Forces L Rev 79 at 79–82 (Hebrew).

Tokyo, Hoanchō hō [National Safety Agency Law], Law No 265 of 1947 (Japan).

[Note: where the McGill Citation Guide provides no specific guidance on the foreign country’s citation structure, a good alternate resource is New York University’s Guide to Foreign and International Legal Citations, 2d ed.]
